

Linking Hawai'i and Pacific Island communities with the belief that health is achieved through the prevention of disease and the promotion of well being with optimal physical, psychological, economic, and social environments and the strong interrelationship between health and the quality of life.

The Hawai'i Public Health Association is an affiliate of the American Public Health Association.

For more information on HPHA's activities please visit:
www.hawaiiipublichealth.org

Address: Hawai'i Public Health Association
345 Queen Street, Suite 601
Honolulu, HI 96813

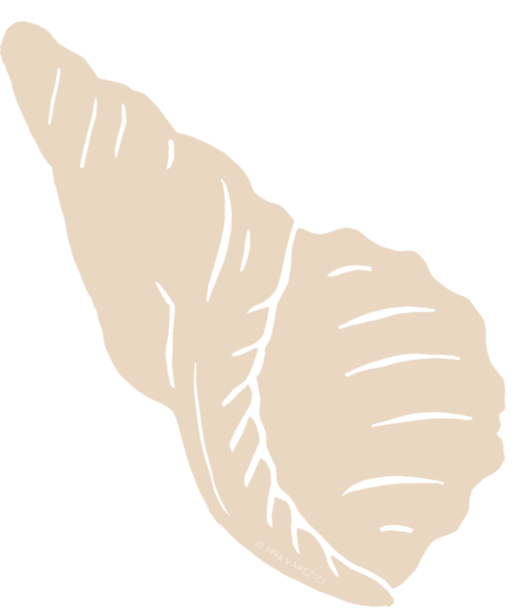

The Hawai'i State Department of Health is pleased to support this conference through our Office of Health Equity, and in partnership with HPHA, the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and other regional and international health organizations.

Pacific Global Health Conference

June 15-17, 2005

Hawai'i Convention Center

Presented by the Hawai'i Public Health Association and the Hawai'i State Department of Health in association with local, national, and international health organizations.

2005

Who Should Attend?

Public health professionals, health policy makers, health care personnel (health educators, nurses, physicians, social workers, and allied health workers), community advocates, and students and faculty whose focus is relevant to the conference objectives.

Conference Objectives:

- To build on the 2002 and 2003 Global Public Health Conferences in generating public health dialogue and collaborative action for broader policy, improved infrastructure, and leadership and training that will contribute to and support healthy communities
- To foster information exchange and networking among public health professionals
- To promote the utilization of evidence-based programs and practices
- To provide the opportunity for participants to earn CME and CEU credits

Abstract Submission:

The abstract submission application for oral presentations and posters will be posted by October 1, 2004 on the Hawaii'i Public Health Association's website: www.hawaiipublichealth.org.

For additional conference information, please send inquiries to: pghc@crch.hawaii.edu.

Conference Tracks:

Oral Presentations and Posters

- 1) Public Health Infrastructure
Health care delivery, resources for training and continuing education, and partnerships that support infrastructure improvement
- 2) Social Determinants of Health and Disease
The ecology of disease, including biological, cultural, social and economic determinants of health outcomes
- 3) Pacific Islanders' contributions to health
Local initiatives, programs or assets that contribute to global health

Special Panel Session:

A special panel session will be dedicated to public health advocacy, comprised of legislators and change agents who have influenced health policies that address global health issues at the local, regional, or international level.

Workshops:

Skills-building workshops will be offered in areas such as evidence-based public health, grant writing, informatics and health registry management.